WHAT YOU'LL LEARN

WORKING WITH NOTES IN THE PATIENT CHART

It's important to document the care and treatment you provide your patients. Through procedure notes and clinical notes, you can record the specifics of the treatment and care you provide at each appointment. Learn the difference between procedure notes and clinical notes and when you should use each. Discover how to enter, edit, sign, add an addendum, and view all of a patient's clinical notes in a single list in the Patient Chart.

CREATING AND CUSTOMIZING CLINICAL NOTES AND TEMPLATES

When making notes about patient visits and treatment, it's important to be thorough, but efficient. Clinical note templates and prompts save you from having to type the same note multiple times a day. They also help ensure that all clinical notes are consistent regardless of who is writing the note. Learn how to create and customize clinical note templates in Dentrix Enterprise, how to edit and delete note templates to best fit your office needs, how to create and clinical note prompts, and how to set up clinical note categories that fit your workflow.
